Offered for sale for the first time since construction this comfortable brick veneer home certainly lives up to its name, what a view. Situated on the level ground of over 1000m2 and facing north this property's exact location within its prized and coveted Bruny Island location is second to none. Situated across the road from and in full view of pristine, serene and picturesque adventure bay beach.

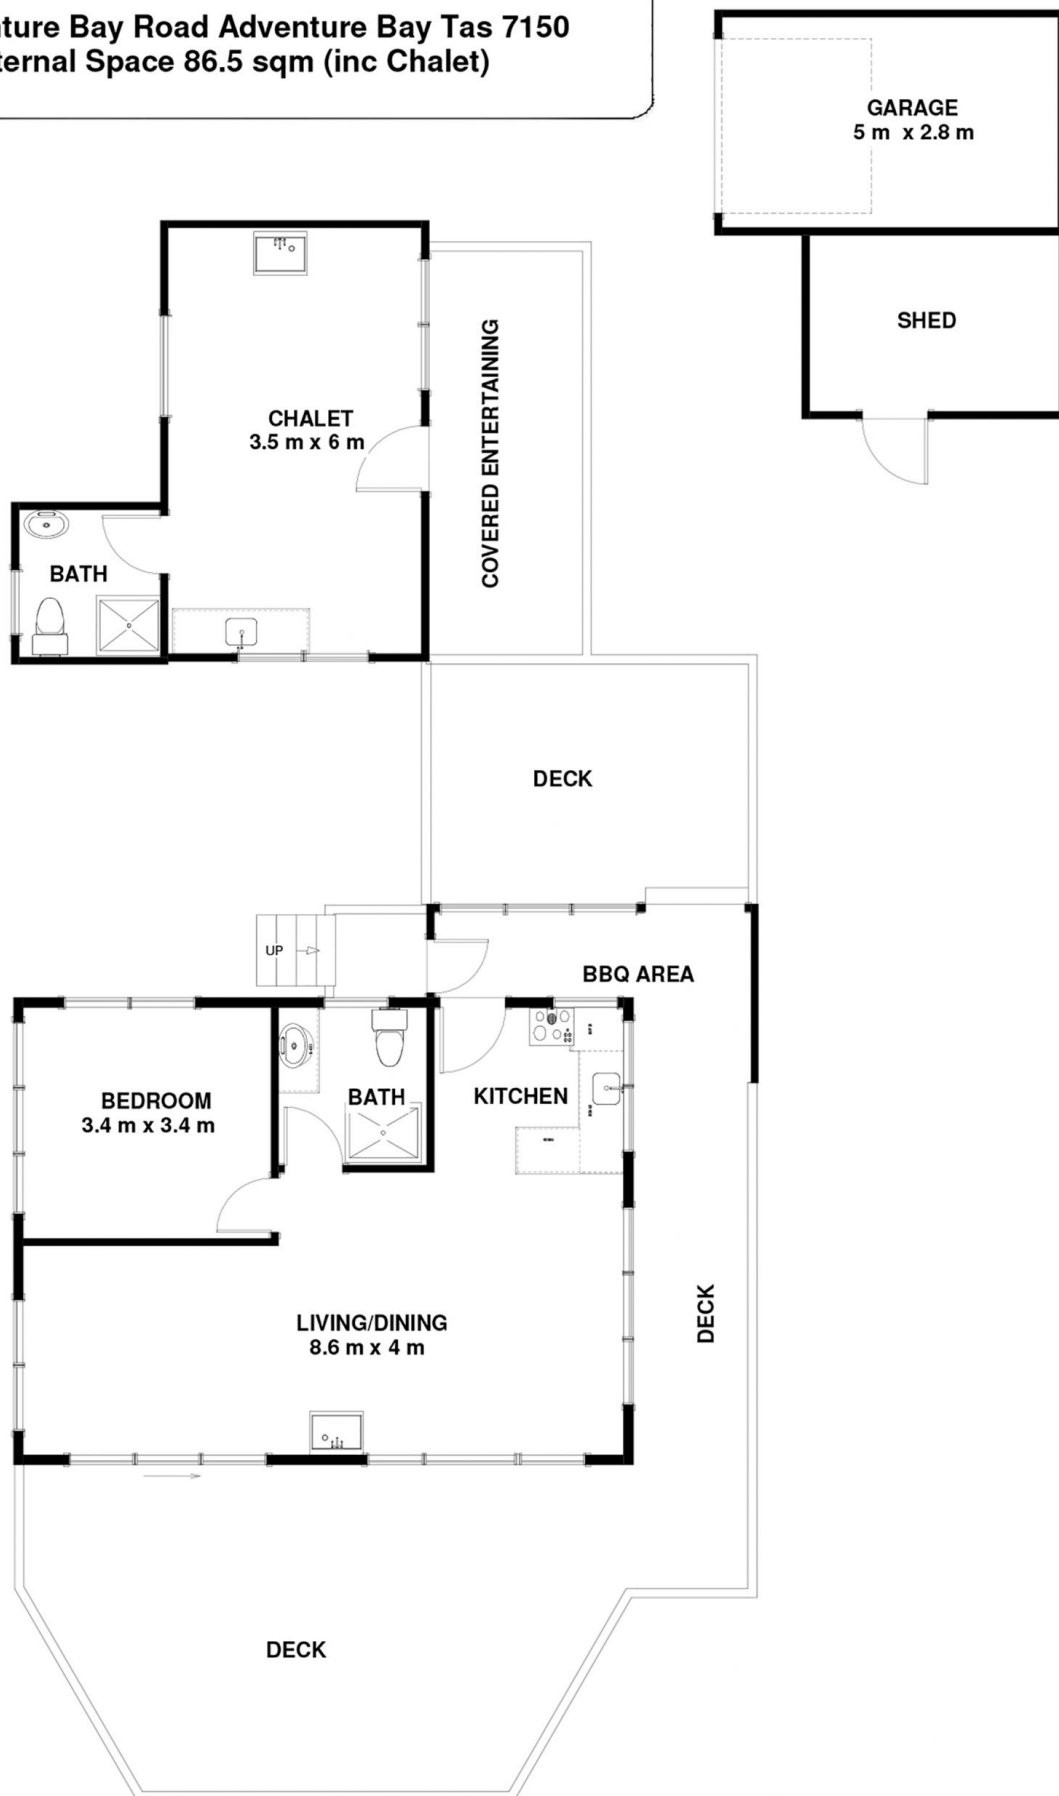

First sighted by Europeans in 1642 via Able Tasman at the helm of the Heemskerck whilst negotiating a heavy storm, hence the original name that still identifies its passage Storm Bay, later renamed Adventure Bay by British captain Tobias Furneaux in honor of his ship HMS Adventure. Latter famous explorers to visit and admire the bay include, Captain James Cook (twice), William Bligh aboard the ill-fated Bounty, Matthew Flinders and French captain Bruni
